

Anarchism

We have nothing but our freedom. We have nothing to give you but your own freedom. We have no law but the single principle of mutual aid between individuals. We have no government but the single principle of free association. We have no states, no nations, no presidents, no premiers, no chiefs, no generals, no bosses, no bankers, no landlords, no wages, no charity, no police, no soldiers, no wars. Nor do we have much else. We are sharers, not owners.

We are not prosperous. None of us is rich. None of us is powerful. If it is [anarchism] you want, if it is the future you seek, then I tell you that you must come to it with empty hands. [...] You cannot buy the Revolution. You cannot make the Revolution. You can only be the Revolution. It is in your spirit, or it is nowhere.

— Ursula K. Le Guin, The Dispossessed
